For the past 15 years the Artist Exhibit Program has been giving Clackamas County artists an opportunity to showcase and sell their artwork commission-free. The Program also provides artists with technical training and assistance, an annual tools and techniques trade show and other educational opportunities.

"The Artist Exhibit Program exposes the artwork of local artists to the public through a variety of exhibit opportunities, with sales encouraged, and helps them to learn valuable skills necessary for getting artwork ready for a professional exhibit," says Sue Allen, Exhibit Coordinator for the Arts Alliance.
